Welcome to the 30th Oil Shale Symposium

Jeremy Boak, Co-Chair, 30th Oil Shale Symposium

Colorado School of Mines, Golden, CO, United States

The opening of the 30th Oil Shale Symposium represents the maturing of the renewed global oil shale endeavor, as we celebrate the fifth meeting since the revival of the series. Dr. Boak will welcome delegates, highlight some features of the current Symposium, and offer some ground rules for activities during the Symposium. He will add a few announcements regarding the Symposium, and then introduce Steven Castillo, the Provost of the Colorado School of Mines.
