

Construction and start-up of Enefit-280 shale oil plant in Estonia

Priit Ploompuu

Enefit, Estonia

In this presentation, I would like to give an overview and status update of the Enefit-280 Shale Oil Plant project execution in Estonia. This plant will demonstrate the new generation Enefit technology, with commissioning planned for Q3 2012. The presentation will cover our lessons learned within the last seven years while performing several technical, environmental and financial feasibility studies and preparing the investment decision; developing and designing the Enefit technology and highlights from procurement, construction, project management and commissioning of the Enefit-280 plant. Currently, we are at the beginning of the Enefit-280 commissioning phase and the most crucial period will be complete by the time of the Symposium.
